Good Will Resolutions Read in Honor of Mrs. Horton

Not until good will resolutions were read did Mrs. Roy S. Horton learn that she was guest of honor at a luncheon shared the past week by members of the Parliamentary Law class, of which she is president. The affair was held in the home of Mrs. Alvin Nowotny, 1002 West Sixth street. Mrs. J. Edmund Snow presented the resolutions. "Whereas: we recognize the inestimable benefit which we have derived from the privilege of being members of the Parliamentary Law class; whereas: we have obtained much pleasure from the contact with each other which has led to the closer binding of old friendships and the making of new; whereas: we recognize that much time and effort has been put forth most generously by our leader for our enlightenment; therefore: be it resolved that we, the Parliamentary class extend to Mrs. Horton our sincere love and greeting."

The rooms of the Nowotny home were brightened with many flowers for the occasion. Many of these were from the hostess' home garden, and others had been sent in by Mrs. Leslie M. Pearson and Mrs. F. H. Heine.

Each guest contributed to the appetizing luncheon served. Those assisting Mrs. Snow in presenting the resolutions were Mrs. William F. Waddell, Mrs. Hugh Neighbour, Mrs. Roy Beall and Mrs. F. H. Heine. Mrs. Beall, a former member of the class, was a special guest at the affair.

During the afternoon, a game of "Do you know what?" was played. Answers were in accordance with parliamentary procedure. Mrs. Heine was awarded the prize for high score.

Santa Anans Participate In State Sessions Of A. A. U. W.

Inspired by the accomplishments and vision of over 450 educators assembled from the four corners of the state, and impressed by representative speakers with the immediate needs confronting elementary, secondary and college institutions throughout California, delegates representing the Orange County branch of the American Association of University Women were home today from a three-day conference of the California State division of that organization, held this past week end at Scripps college, Claremont.

Official report of the past season's activities was given by Mrs. Charles C. Brisco, who, as president of the Orange County branch, represented this chapter at the business meeting held yesterday morning. Mrs. Harold Gorton, president of the local branch last term, arrived for Monday's sessions to join Mrs. Brisco, Mrs. A. Young and Mrs. Horace Scott, who attended the convention throughout.

Cites Benefits
Mrs. Brisco was enthusiastic today in her description of the values derived from the state meeting, declaring that the Orange county delegates obtained many ideas for future speakers, and that the round tables were especially profitable.

As a member of the resolutions committee, of which Miss Minnie Bunker of San Francisco was chairman, Mrs. Brisco was instrumental in framing a resolution relative to crime enforcement which was adopted by the state association. The resolution follows: "Inasmuch as the need for law enforcement and crime prevention has become acute, be it resolved that the California State division recommend to the national organization of A. A. U. W. that it undertake a study of conditions, and cooperate earnestly with existing agencies for law enforcement."

Keynote Sounded
A plea to retain the human values in education and so to guide retrenchment along educational lines as to avoid interference with those phases of schooling concerned with character building, among both teachers and students, was strongly presented by the Honorable Virgil Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, and was reiterated in the addresses of Dr. Susan M. Dorsey, who plead the elementary school needs; and of Dr. James A. Blaisdell, who dwelt upon the sacrifices entailed in the achievement of many college educations.

Kersey further recommended that from now on the youth of the country be drilled in fundamental as a preparation for meeting the economic problems of the future. Miss Alice Anderson, former state chairman of international relations, was elected president of the California division during the business interim, and the conference accepted an invitation to meet in Sacramento next year.

The Santa Ana women were afforded opportunity, with the other delegates, to inspect the new Bridges auditorium on the Pomona college campus; enjoyed a supper and evening's theatrical entertainment in the Little Theater of Padua Hills Sunday evening, and were otherwise entertained at luncheons and banquets and in the dormitories of the Pomona and Scripps college campuses.

Choir Members Make Plans for Future Activities
Making plans for future activities, members of the choir of St. Joseph's church met last night in the home of F. H. Dierker, 914 Lacy street. The group discussed the organization of a Parish Choral society, which probably will take place next fall.

During the evening the choir director, August Pestolesi, was presented with a gift from the assembled members in appreciation for his work throughout the year. A social time was enjoyed.

Those present were Mrs. C. C. Taylor, Mrs. A. L. Witten, Mrs. Lucille Steen, Miss Alice Biner, Miss Dorothy Kneip, Miss Rose Ellick, Miss Mary Louise Dierker, Miss Rosemary Ashen, and Father F. A. Wakenman, F. H. Dierker, Mr. Pestolesi, Clyde Ashen, Albert Watinberg, Pierre Goubert, Kempton Ferguson and Fredrick Dierker.

Drill Team Maneuvers Honor Shrine Officer
Many admiring comments have been heard in regard to the work of the drill team of Damascus White Shrine under the capable instruction of Mrs. May Glaze. Especially pleasing were the drills presented by this group at the last meeting of the Shrine, when the 16 members of the team and their flag bearer demonstrated their floor work as a compliment to Mrs. Lillian Vinson, worthy high priestess.

Mrs. Vinson recently attended the Supreme White Shrine convention in Detroit, Mich., and the special drill was planned as a welcome home to her. During its progress, the drill mistress, Mrs. Glaze was accorded place of honor near the worthy high priestess, Mrs. Vinson, and the drill culminated with a march past the two during which each member of the team presented a single stalk of gladiolus blossoms to each until both high priestess and drill mistress bore great clusters of the beautiful flowers.

Wedding of Interest Solemnized in Placentia

A wedding of interest was solemnized Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Besonette, Placentia, when their daughter, Miss Ethel Besonette, became the bride of Edward L. Thompson, of Atlanta, Georgia.

The home was beautifully decorated with baskets of pink and blue delphinium. Banked with ferns and greenery, the fire-place provided an appropriate setting for the ceremony, read by the Rev. Charles Fuller, of Placentia. The bride and bridegroom pledged their vows under a large white wedding veil.

Miss Besonette wore a gown of blue lace, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and maiden-hair fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Irene Besonette, as maid of honor. Hershel Lane of Orange, was best man.

Mrs. H. B. Farren of Buena Park, played Lohengrin's wedding march. Little Billy Guley of Santa Ana, a cousin of the bride, sang, "I Love You Truly."

COLLEGE GIRLS wash

175 dainty garments with one box of LUX

(Below) Miss Gretchen Wilson and Miss Tyler admiring a dainty chemise washed with Lux. Miss Wilson says: "Lux keeps stockings and lingerie new looking such a long time. And my, it's quick. You can do a whole bunch of silk things in no time at all!"

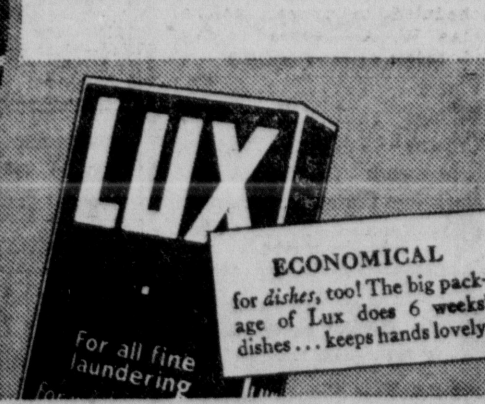

TEN young college girls at the famous Allerton House in New York City recently counted the number of garments one box of Lux washed.

Their list totaled 175! More than 14 dozen—think of it! You've known Lux flakes were the safest, finest soap ever made, but did you realize how economical these marvelous tissue-thin diamonds are? Lux not only keeps nice things colorful and lovely as new—but it goes so far—does so much. Just look over the list one box washed:

35 pairs of stockings	60 handkerchiefs
10 brassieres	11 pairs gloves
10 slips	2 face cloths
9 bloomers	1 silk kimono
8 chemises	1 sweater
7 pajamas	1 smock
6 step-ins	1 blouse
4 vests	1 collar and cuff set
4 nightgowns	1 hat
2 singlettes	1 girdle

For economy's sake, avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. They often contain harmful alkali which weakens fabrics and fades colors. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water is safe in Lux.

A little goes so far—it's economy to use LUX

The sardine can just smiled and then we Duncy chimed right in again. "Please tell us more about yourself," said he. "I'd like to hear."

"You say you're just a sardine can and yet you seem a happy man. I cannot understand how you can be so full of cheer."

The can replied, "Ah! That's just it. Just gather 'round me, lads, and sit right down and be real comfortable. I'll tell you all I know."

The Tinymites did as they were told. The can then said, "My story's old, but if you want to hear it, I will tell it. Here I go!"

"Once I was just a sheet of tin. Real long and flat and very thin. And then they twisted me around until I was a can."

"Although it never was my wish, they shortly filled me full of fish. You still can see where fish were, lads, if my insides you'll scan."

"And then they took me to a store. I found out what I was there for. A man came in and bought me and soon opened me up wide."

"I wasn't long till I was thrown away, which left me all alone. And then I came to Tin Can Town, with no more fish inside."

"That's interesting," Scouty said. Then Duncy shouted, "Look ahead! What is that I see coming? It's a quite unusual sight."

The can replied, "Don't be afraid. That's merely a tin can parade. Just watch the cans go marching by. Upon their feet they're light."

The Tinymites jumped to their feet, the better to enjoy the treat. On came the funny tin cans and they kept in perfect step."

Wee Windy clapped his hands and cried, "You all look dandy, side by side." And then he started keeping time by shouting, "Hep, hep, hep!"

CHANCELLOR BRUENING RESIGNS

Keeping even cursorily abreast of happenings in the various nations of the world calls for considerable agility. From Japan to Germany the focal point of interest shifts. Two weeks ago the Premier of Japan was assassinated. It seemed that Japan was on the brink of revolution and chaos. Attention turned from Europe where the recent elections promised a status quo at least until after the Lausanne conference. Yesterday Chancellor Bruening and his cabinet resigned. The news as yet is too fresh to afford a gage of the actual differences which brought about the change. President Von Hindenburg called upon Herr Bruening to remain in office temporarily until a new cabinet is formed. In the meantime he went into conference with the leaders of the various parties represented in the Reichstag.

The suggestion is made in the news that President Von Hindenburg believed that the cabinet should conform with the party line-up resulting from the recent national Prussian elections. That is the sort of stalwart adherence to principle which has characterized President Von Hindenburg. It was no meaningless gesture when President Von Hindenburg took the oath to uphold the Weimar Constitution. He has been tempted more than once with schemes for a dictatorship. According to Doctor Richard von Kuhlman, formerly German Foreign Minister, the President's friends have urged him to suppress the paramount influence of the majority vote, "but he had only one guiding star—loyalty to his electoral vows."

Events are obscure today. Any assignation of the causes of the difference between the President and his Chancellor are speculative. President Von Hindenburg may, however, be "calling the bluff" of the Nazi party. President Von Hindenburg has been a strict and conscientious upholder of the German constitution. He believes that the cabinet should be representative of the votes of the people. The Nazi party is reported to refuse to cooperate in a cabinet. If the Nazi party refuses to cooperate along constitutional lines, now that the opportunity is put strictly before them to cooperate in the forming of a cabinet, the party must surely sacrifice much power and influence. The election revealed that the German people are not ready to uphold a party which does not revere the German constitution.

It seems unlikely that the crisis in Germany will have any direct bearing on the reparations. Chancellor Bruening had announced that Germany would not be able to pay. Reparations payments were not included in the German budget. On that matter, however, Chancellor Bruening was a reluctant exponent of the sentiment of the German people and not the creator of that sentiment.

THE GRAND OPERA REVOLT

The refusal of Sig. Gigli to take a cut in salary as a member of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York has precipitated a discussion "pro" and "con" which is interesting to follow. The letter page of the New York Times last Sunday was opened to the "pros" and "antis" in the quarrel, and some very interesting facts were brought out.

In the first place, the leaders of the Grand Opera company in taking a cut were far from the headline. With a salary of $100,000 a year, with concert opportunities to add some more thousands, and with liberal allowances to go home to Europe and back, there will be little sympathy with those who withdrew from the company rather than take a cut.

On the other hand, it is claimed that the present management is inclined to favor foreign singers, and that only enough Americans have been given a chance to take the curse off. Of course, this is sharply denied by Mr. Gatti, the manager of the Metropolitan Opera company.

All this goes to show that the natural emotional temperament of singers and musical artists in general is not easily controlled. We have no idea that the country is going to get wildly excited about the whole matter. These musical artists have gotten for themselves pretty much all the "traffic would bear," and then some more. A little reduction still leaves them with very much more than the most favored of us have. In one of these letters the case of one singer who came to this country penniless is cited. At first she was glad to get $750 for a recital, but as the getting became better she lifted the price to $3,000 and got it. Strange, is it not, how some people get excited over these poor singers to whom less than $100,000 is a depression wage?

THE FINE ART OF EATING

Gus Waser, a Los Angeles chef, the other day won first prize in a national menu contest. The items on the menu were all American foods with American names. This will please the hundred per centers and possibly devalue the interest of many students of French.

The menu consisted of grapefruit and orange cocktail, cream of tomato soup with crackers, roast chicken with dressing, new peas and mashed potatoes, butter biscuits, lettuce and asparagus tips salad, pumpkin pie and coffee. It is almost a standardized American menu, but it certainly has its charms. At that, the strange names occurring on many bills of fare do have a piquancy. Strange and unfamiliar things, to a normal person, are attractive. And if the unfamiliar dish lives up to the suggestions of its name there is a zest injected into eating which has been outlawed since the fad of the diet.

Since "times have changed," the pleasures of music, of books, of discourse, of going back to nature have all been presented in the full glory of their enticements. Now, how about a little emphasis on the delicacy and fineness of the cuisine? Good cooks develop where there is appreciation. Over in France there is a place famous for its fish soup, another for its omelets, another for its delicious onion soup. We know a place up in Oregon we would like to return to for its clam chowder, and for no other reason. The enjoyment of good food is rather an art. It isn't developed by stuffing on stuffing; it is done by developing an appreciation of delicate flavors.

Many a good cook has been ruined by lack of appreciation. While in these days we are developing other arts, for lack of something less worthy to do, we might give a thought to the matter of eating and at least, if we must watch the calories, get the maximum of delight from the ones we do consume.

WASHINGTON'S FIRST STEP

An unemployment relief plan after President Hoover's own heart is going to be put into operation in Washington, June 4. Congressional Democrats and Republicans are going to play a baseball game in Washington. It probably will help the unemployed fund some. In fact it will probably serve to demonstrate to official Washington how practical is this plan of local unemployment relief, for it is reported that the proportion of unemployment in Washington is rather small. Therefore a Congressional baseball game will be a demonstration of efficiency, there in Washington.

A columnist reported during the winter that Washington really became aware of unemployment at the time of the first march of the unemployed on Washington. It was, to the residents of Washington, a message from the outside. The demonstration was really a piece of educational work. It would really make interesting reading to official Washington to study a report of the resourcefulness of local communities in raising money for the unemployed. Concerts, and baseball games, and theatrical performances—one marvels at the human mind that it can discover still more things to do. "Necessity is the mother of invention." Other things will be discovered and the ideas passed along to the people of Washington.

Listening Through Your Hat

Christian Science Monitor

With a radio set in his helmet there will be times when the London "bobby" will be quite ready to admit he has a "bee in his bonnet." A news dispatch announces that a group of London police are to be equipped with miniature sets the essential part of which is carried in the bowler or helmet and operates to enable the man beneath it to hear whatever may be received on the wavelength to which it is attuned.

The chief value lies in the facility with which central stations may get in touch with the men on patrol in cases of emergency. No earphones are used in this new equipment. In fact, the policeman gets no more of a signal than the message sent out by his superior. His nose does not light up nor a whistle blow. But radio receivers do get too close to some of the electrical contrivances on his belt may get impressions of more than one "bee in his bonnet" if a hum of the proper dimensions falls into step with his wavelength.

But this radio-in-your-hat idea may be popularized. The appeal of listening to the Crispy Cruller Crooners, the Bettine Bugaboos and the Singing Synopsators may be great enough to prompt a general demand for hat sets for street use. Undoubtedly it would be a great pleasure to saunter through the park to the tune of "When the Merry Moonbeams Mobilize in May," or rest a while by the river side while Sidney Sotus sobbingly sang the stirring strains of "Suddy Soap for Soapy Suds."

A Billion Pounds of Candy

New York Times

The Department of Commerce estimates that the American people consumed more than a billion and a quarter pounds of candy last year, worth $233,306,272 at manufacturers' prices. According to Dr. Klein, the actual per capita consumption was 11.78 pounds. This, he says, was almost exactly equal to the average consumption figure during prosperous years.

The chocolate drop and the almond bar are humble auxiliaries of a modern industrial society, seldom in the headlines and never pictured in the charts and graphs which measure the state of business. Nevertheless, there is significance in these figures for others as well as for the manufacturers of sweets. They come as a reminder that, while purchasing power has undoubtedly been reduced, a good deal remains on tap in a nation of 122,000,000 people. They also suggest that, while prices may have been cut and profits reduced, there are industries still functioning, as actively as ever, in the third year of the depression.

Discouraged prophets who predict an immediate and general disaster are advised to note that on the edge of the precipice the American people stopped in 1931 to eat a billion pounds of candy.

BACK IN THE FOLD

When poring over picture books
Of old and distant times,
Of buccaners with hands like hooks
And records stained with crimes,
Bill dreams about the rolling sea
With waves of dancing blue,
And wishes in his heart that he Might be a pirate too.

When Father tells of bandits' hold
Like Frank and Jesse James,
And all the terror that old
And how their hearts were cold,
Their tempers hot, and
He thinks it would be better
To lead a life like theirs.

He thinks he'd like to be a man
The world would hold in awe,
And join some wild and ruthless clan
Which had no fear of law,
He thinks he'd like to carve and shoot
In distant lands and climes
And gather loads of dazzling loot
By dint of barefaced crimes.

But when it's dark outside the house
He's filled with shuddering dread
Because he hears a gnawing mouse
At work beneath his bed,
His head beneath the coverlid,
He says his shaky prayers
And feels just like a little kid

The telephone rang this afternoon and I answered it and it was some man saying, Is Mr. Potts there?

Meaning pop, and I said, No, not yet, and he said, Well I'd like to leave a message for him. Yes sir, what is it? I said, and he said, Tell him Mr. Sellers called up and said for him to call up Rogers as soon as possible and tell him to tell him it's O. K.

Yes sir, I said. The only trouble being I forgot all about it, and after supper the telephone rang while I was down in the front hall, and I heard pop answering it, saying, Hello, yes, O hell, Sellers, what, who no I did, I was waiting to hear from you first. What message, I didn't get any message. What you don't say so, that's a lucky break, I must say. If I'd called him up it would set me back at least 200 dollars, and you know what 200 dollars is these days. Sure, thanks, goodbye.

Me thinking, G. heck. And I quick called upstairs, Hay pop, somebody named Mr. Sellers called you up before supper and left a message. Well well, whatever made you think of that, come up here, pop said.

Which I did, and he said, Are you going to be a forgetful dope all your life? No sir, I said, and he said, I hope not. A person who forgets to deliver messages is fated to failure, and I warned you the next time it happened I would punish you for your own sake, which is the only thing I ever punish you for. The fact that your inexcusable thoughtlessness was a very fortunate thing for me this particular time does not alter the principle of the thing, and I have no right to forbear from punishing you from any such selfish motive as that. So I will prove to you how it's possible, for a person to lose half his fortune by one act of forgetfulness. Which he did, making me feel the luckiest I've felt all week.

FACTORIES FOR STRAW MEN

A certain politician has lately been seeking to project on the public mind a picture of me that will, I am sure, be amusing to the readers of these articles who have followed my discussions of our economic plight.

This politician, by some strange quirk of mind, feels that he can reap some advantage by attacking such institutions as the University over which I preside as centers of anti-American doctrines—Communism and the like.

He begins by painting me as a subtle agitator for Communism, and he bases his picture largely on phrases here and there from an address I gave on the Crisis of Capitalism, which was made up, by the way, of a half dozen or more of these articles which were published last fall.

In that address, I said, "I am not a Communist. Everything in me cries out against any social scheme that enforces a regimentation of life from above, whether it be by the dictatorship of a class or the dictatorship of a person. But we must be realistic enough to realize that the only answer that will really answer Communism is the achievement and guarantee by Western capitalism of a better life for the millions than Communism can achieve—we do not want a Stalin or a Mussolini—I am convinced that the American system of free capitalism and political liberty can answer Communism, but it must do it in deeds not words."

This address was reported with unusual adequacy in the press. It brought to my deek many letters from intelligent captains of industry, all of them speaking appreciatively of its analysis of the problem confronting the managerial genius of American business and industry.

In the mail evoked by this address came an applauding letter from Colonel Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Daily Tribune and I have not heard of Colonel McCormick's being suspected of Red tendencies.

On the Sunday following this address, The Chicago Tribune carried a leading editorial of more than a column, under the title of The New Capitalism, citing this address as an effective defense of enlightened capitalism. I doubt that any one will suspect the Tribune of Communist leanings.

This address, in fact, did not contain a single contention respecting American capitalism that has not been made directly or indirectly by such men as Owen D. Young of the General Electric and Alfred Sloan of the General Motors, whom even the most expert witch-burner would have difficulty in listing as Communists.

And yet it is from isolated phrases out of this and kindred addresses that a politician will seek to picture a man as an anti-American agitator.

It would be amusing, were it not for the fact that much of our campaigning is of this shoddy sort.

As a people, we must increasingly insist upon political realism, an honest dealing with issues instead of the busy manufacture of straw men.

PLAY

"The trouble with Dick is that the only thing he thinks about is play. When I want him to study his lessons in the evening he is too tired. Any excuse is good enough. But when it comes to play you can't hold him. I've forbidden him to play ball until he gets a hundred in arithmetic but I can't see that he is improving and I'm all tired out struggling with him."

Did you ever try to hold a slippery fish that was trying to get back into the river? You didn't succeed unless you had a net or a bucket handy. You either let the fish go or you killed him. Something like that happens when you try to hold a boy of ten from play. He has much need of that ball game on the lot as the fish has for that river. You have just as much chance to hold him, too.

Play is the child's sincere desire for growth. It is not his own idea. That is, not his own in the sense that he created it. The play instinct is born in every child. Its satisfaction is as important to him as the satisfaction of any other major hunger. He needs play as he needs food and air and sunshine.

Play is not a waste of time. We have been too earnest about work in America. We have put it first even in the lives of our children. Play has first place in their lives. It is of first necessity. We have put a bad conscience in play so that whenever we take a day off we have a feeling of guilt. To do nothing but live for a day is a grievous fault with some of us. If it is too late for us to right that notion, and I no not give up yet, it surely ought not to be too late to get the idea right for our children. They are to be free to play their allotted time.

When should a child stop playing and turn to work? When his stage of growth demands it. That does not happen all at once. There is no day fixed for the change. It is a slow merging of the play spirit into the work motive. It comes gradually. You notice that the child works more and plays less. He gives away his cherished marbles. She parts with the dolls that have been her heart's delight. Old interests are dropped and new ones taken in their places. Life takes on a more serious aspect and the old childish ways are lost. There will be an occasional glimpse backward as though the child took a last look at his childhood before parting with it for good. A girl will play with the dolls she has given to her younger sister, a boy will stop for a few whacks at the ball. But the old relationship is broken and it is not resumed.

It will not be necessary to tell the child to stop his play and go to work. Instinct tells him that and he obeys that voice without a thought of protest. It becomes his driving force. As it was in his play so it is in his work. If we provide for a healthy play life for the children we are setting the stage for a healthy working life. The one dependent upon the other.

Try to look upon play as one of the necessities of a child's life and make rich provision for it. (Copyright, 1932, The Bell Syn., Inc.)

GERMANS REACH MARNE

On May 31, 1918, German troops in the Chemin des Dames sector continued their great drive, reaching Chateau Thierry and other points on the Marne.

Fighting in the center of the huge salient created by the German offensive was intense throughout the night, but Allied positions on the flanks were being held without great trouble.

French reserve divisions began to arrive at the front rapidly and to take their place beside the remnants of the divisions which had received the full-shock of the first attack.

American troops were in the lines near Chateau Thierry and it seemed probable that they would be involved in severe fighting.

SHERWOOD'S DEPOSITS IN BANK HEAVY

Close to Million Placed in Banks by Missing Accountant, Revealed

SALARY ONLY $3500

Dividend Check in Theater Company Stock Deposited to Clerk Account

NEW YORK, May 31.—(UP)—Bank accounts and financial transactions of friends of Mayor James J. Walker were further revealed today as counsel Samuel Seabury delivered more deeply into investigation of the city administration before the Hofstadter committee.

Among the morning's revelations were:

1. That in four years Russell T. Sherwood, missing accountant who did some work for Mayor Walker, had deposited almost $1,000,000, during which time his salary ranged from $3500 annually to $10,000 annually.
2. That Sherwood's accounts showed that the "mysterious and unnamed" person to whom Mayor Walker ordered Sherwood on one occasion to pay $7500 was the recipient of almost $60,000 additionally from Sherwood in stock and letters of credit.
3. That divided checks in a theater company stock, which Walker had received allegedly in payment of a legal fee, were deposited to Sherwood's account.
4. That Senator John A. Hastings, a close friend of the mayor, was to have shared in stock in a voluntary trust formed by a group seeking a city bus franchise.

COL. LINDBERGH AND WIFE RETURN HOME

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 31.—(UP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were back home at the Sourland mountain estate today after a two day visit in the home of her mother, Mrs. Dwight Morrow at Englewood.

The two plan to divide their time between the Englewood home and the scene of the kidnapping of their infant son on March 1.

State police headquarters heretofore maintained in the Lindbergh garage has been moved to the state police training school, five miles from Trenton. A guard will be left at the estate here.

NINE RESCUED AT SEA

The destroyer Badger was reported to have taken Captain Matthew Sears and his crew of eight from the Light ship and started for Gloucester. The schooner was believed to be doomed.

BILL ASKS FOR FUNDS TO AID VETERAN ARMY

Bonus Marchers Quartered in Temporary Barracks in Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—(UP)—Federal funds were sought today to provide for the regiment of destitute, bonus seeking war veterans who have laid siege to congress.

Senator Costigan, Dem., Colo., introduced a bill calling for immediate appropriation of $75,000 to feed and house the veterans. A senate committee will consider the measure tomorrow.

Costigan acted after Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, reiterated a warning that he would have to ask the bonus army of occupation to leave the city as soon as funds for its support are exhausted.

Only a two day food supply donated by business men was on hand for the 601 veterans quartered in temporary barracks—a garage and an abandoned store. Some money was promised by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and two benefit shows have been arranged. But these prospective funds would be comparatively small, and the veterans seemed determined to remain some time.

"We will devote our entire time to obtaining favorable veterans' legislation, and we will be here until we see that there are results from our work, promised W. W. Waters, commander of the bonus army. "I do not say we will be here until the bonus payment is authorized. But we want congress to take action favorable to the veterans and we will stay to see that it is done."

After a day's delay, the police chief obtained rolling kitchens and bed sacks from the war department. Sunday night the 300 veterans who arrived from Oregon had to sleep on bare floors. The department also may furnish pup tents for a "bonus camp" which Glassford plans to establish if many more veterans come here.

SHOT FIRED DURING PARADE IN BERLIN

BERLIN, May 31.—(UP)—Shots were fired in the vicinity of the United States embassy today when police dispersed a demonstration of National Socialists (Nazis) in Unter Den Linden.

The demonstration was made more impressive by crowds in the vicinity gathered to watch the guard parading to President Paul von Hindenburg's palace for the dedication of a memorial to the dead in the Jutland naval battle of the World war.

Large scale Nazi demonstrations started when Paul Goebbels, one of Adolf Hitler's chief aids, unexpectedly appeared in front of the Prussian ministry of interior, where he stood in an automobile and harangued the crowd. The naval guard parading to Hindenburg's palace for the Jutland dedication simultaneously attracted thousands of curious.

MRS. CYRUS CURTIS CALLED BY DEATH

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.—(UP)—Mrs. Cyrus H. K. Curtis, wife of the publisher, died early today in Jefferson hospital.

She was his second wife as well as his second cousin. She was the former Mrs. Kate S. Pillsbury of Milwaukee and was married to Curtis on August 2, 1910.

Death came suddenly of a heart attack at the hospital, where she had gone to be at the bedside of her husband, who has been receiving treatment several days.

Mrs. Curtis had been ailing several months, but her condition was not considered serious.

Supreme Court To Review Negro Trials

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(UP)—The supreme court today decided to review the trial and convictions of seven Negro youths sentenced to death in Scottsboro, Ala., for alleged attacks upon two white women.

The youths are scheduled to be executed next month. The court's decision to take the case up when it reconvenes next fall will be used as a basis for further stay of execution.

The court set argument for October 10. Extra guards had been stationed at the court chamber to handle any disorders which might result when a decision was announced, but there was no demonstration.

EXPECT HITLER TO BE LEADER NEXT CABINET

Indications Point to Nazi Party Leader as Successor to Bruening

BERLIN, May 31.—(UP)—Adolph Hitler, Fascist leader threatened with trial on charges of treason only a few months ago, today appeared likely to be the head of the next German government.

The rapid rise of Fascism has brought Hitler's Nazi party from a noisy, turbulent opposition group to the largest single party in the Reichstag.

That rise was credited with being the most important influence in President Von Hindenburg's decision to withdraw confidence from Chancellor Heinrich Bruening, which caused Bruening's resignation.

ROLPH WILL BATTLE CIVIL SERVICE BODY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 31.—(UP)—A showdown on California's state civil service row was promised here today.

With Governor Rolph in a tight mood, a warm attack was promised against the "silly questions" which he contends have resulted in ousting scores of state employees in competitive examinations.

The Governor has built up an elaborate case against the civil service as it now operates, and was prepared to recommend that it be divorced from the state department of finance and raised to the status of a department, with its chief a member of the governor's cabinet.

Rolph was to ask the civil service commission through Hugh McKeitt, of San Francisco, and Wallace Ware, of Santa Rosa, whether they wish to continue this policy or not.

TALBOT IS DENIED FREEDOM ON BAIL

LOS ANGELES, May 31.—(UP)—The ill-health plea of James A. Talbot, former multi-millionaire chairman of the board of Richfield Oil company, failed today when he was denied freedom from jail on bail pending his appeal to conviction on charges of grand theft from the Richfield company.

Superior Judge Yankwich ruled Talbot must remain in custody after three physicians appointed by the court said that jail life probably would be beneficial rather than detrimental to the oil man's welfare.

PRECEDENT IS SHATTERED BY JOHN N. GARNER

Speaker Appears at Committee Hearing in Effort to Boost Bill

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(UP)—Speaker Garner, in a fighting mood, appeared today before the House Ways and Means committee in a personal plea for speedy action on his $2,309,000,000 (b) unemployment relief program.

Garner shattered congressional precedent of a generation to make his appearance as a committee witness on the controversial relief measure. His testimony marked the first time within the memory of veteran house members that a speaker has testified before a committee.

Speaking quietly and slowly, Garner warned the committee "that men and women are suffering from lack of food, from destitution."

"Can any of you gentlemen," the speaker challenged, "go back to your districts and admit that there is no way to bring relief to the suffering or that you did not attempt to pass such legislation?"

The speaker, explaining the purpose of the $2,309,000,000 fund provided in his bill for direct federal aid to the destitute, said that he was not "wedded" to any particular means of administering this fund, but that he was convinced of the absolute necessity of the government coming to the aid of private charity. Under the Garner bill, the federal relief funds would be administered by the President, but some Democrats have objected to this provision.

League To Hold Mass Meet Here

Public Invited to Attend Gathering at S. A. High School Next Monday

ANNOUNCEMENT of a free public mass meeting, to be held next Monday evening, June 6, and to which every man and woman residing in Orange county is invited, was made today by the Orange County Civic League through its secretary, Wayne Goble.

The meeting, planned to be held in the high school auditorium, will be of particular interest to all taxpayers and citizens, it is declared by those in charge of the movement.

The featured speaker of the occasion will be John Leitch, for many years a resident of New York and Philadelphia, author of the book, "Man to Man," and originator of a system of Industrial Democracy which he installed in more than 80 industrial plants, including the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Packard Piano company.

Leitch recently became a resident of Santa Ana, where his daughter lives, and plans to devote the remainder of his life to aiding in a re-birth of the American principles of equality and justice, as planned by the founders of the nation—principles which he used successfully in his extensive work with industry.

The time has come for the great mass of people to assert themselves, Leitch holds, and solve the important problems now perplexing the nation, before which the government and financial leaders appear to be helpless.

Such reformation, he believes, must start with the people, and work toward Sacramento and Washington, and all hope should be abandoned of such a people's program starting in Washington or Wall street.

At Monday night's mass meeting Leitch will present his idea of a constructive program to reduce taxation and excessive governmental expense, the first step toward business recovery, and submit it for the consideration and action of the meeting. This will be the first public presentation of his plan, and it is expected the auditorium will be filled to capacity to hear it.

Officials of the Civic League, who have studied the Leitch program, feel that Monday night's meeting may start a movement which will not only be felt locally, but which also will be heard in Washington and eventually cleanse politics of the selfish special interests who influence legislation to their own purposes, without regard to the welfare of the great public.

SNOW FALLS AGAIN IN HIGH SIERRAS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 31.—(UP)—A fresh blanket of snow in the high Sierra greeted the arrival of June.

It fell yesterday evening and last night, along with the rainfall in the lower regions that greeted thousands of disappointed week end vacationists returning to their homes.

Holidays over, the sun was back on the job in Northern California today, and the rainfall was virtually over for the summer, the United States weather bureau reported.

While many motorists were reported marooned Sunday by heavy rains in the hills, highway patrol officers at Soda Springs, Placerville, Sonoma, Grass Valley and Oroville, key points in the mountain recreation areas, reported no automobiles held up by the weather.

BROMLEY OFF ONCE MORE FOR COAST

AMARILLO, Tex., May 31.—(UP)—Harold Bromley took off for California in his black and red monoplane at 8:52 a. m., CST, today, planning to follow the transcontinental Western Air route to Burbank, Calif.

Whether he will continue to Seattle and make a third attempt to fly to Tokyo probably will depend upon the success of Seattle attorneys' effort today to induce posters of a $30,000 Tokyo flight prize to extend the June 1 time limit on the offer.

Bromley said he would make a definite announcement regarding the Tokyo flight when he reached Los Angeles. He had a slight tailwind and fair weather when he left.

Drys Threaten Bolt If G. O. P. Plank Is Wet

Board of Strategy Meeting in Capitol May Put Up Own Candidate

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(UP)—Meeting here today, exactly two weeks before the Republican convention is scheduled to open, the national prohibition board of strategy started its conference with an announced threat of entering a third candidate in the presidential race this year unless President Hoover gets off the fence and comes out definitely for prohibition.

The conference opening in Washington today is sponsored by the Anti-Saloon league and 35 affiliated organizations and is a definite threat that national dry organizations will desert the Republican party which they so vigorously supported in 1928.

Some party counselors have urged President Hoover to straddle the prohibition question this year in the interest of harmony. If this is done, the prohibition leaders are warning Hoover, it will invite defeat at the polls next November.

With the dry ultimatum demanding a flat stand for prohibition the president is placed under two fires with the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment warning of defeat unless the Republicans support a repeal or referendum law. This prediction was contained in letters to Republican convention delegates.

Realizing that whatever candidate the Democrats nominate will be openly for repeal or modification, dry strategists are hoping to keep the Republicans from going even moist in the national program. If they fail in this attempt to get a dry Republican plank, prohibition leaders are preparing to enter a third presidential candidate.

There is no intention to line up a whole ticket, but merely to offer a third candidate with a view to splitting the Republican votes. This strategy is to be discussed at the conference opening today in Washington.

The idea back of the threat is to bring home to the Republicans the political danger involved in abandoning the dry cause.

Presbyterian Assembly Hits at Radio

DENVER, May 31.—(INS)—Lively debate on radio, the movies, Sunday newspapers, prohibition and peace featured the Memorial day session of the 144th General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States here today.

The assembly went on record in favor of continuance of prohibition, speakers declaring enforcement of the law was 75 per cent effective.

Commercialization of the radio, particularly on Sunday, was condemned, one speaker urging that even religious programs be barred from the air on Sunday during the hours that church services are being conducted.

Sunday newspapers were condemned and Sunday movies were strongly criticized.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—Ten minutes after Mr. Hoover left the senate chamber the senate finance committee voted against the general manufacturers' sales tax.

Majority Leader Watson said the vote was 12 to 8 and Democrats said it was 12 to 7. The committee also approved a five per cent tax on domestic sales of gas and electricity estimated to raise $60,000,000 in additional revenue.

NAT BROWNE IS CRACKED UP AS PLANE CRASHES

Famous Aviator and Stunt Man Forced to Bail Out As Ship Crumples

SEATTLE, May 31.—(UP)—Nat C. Browne, former Texan, nursed a dislocated shoulder here today, his long cherished hope of flying non-stop to Tokyo apparently lying at the bottom of Puget sound with the fragments of his airplane, the Lone Star.

Browne and Frank Brooks, professional sky jumper and stunt man, floated into the water with parachutes when the Lone Star, damaged in attempting to refuel from another plane, went out of control and fell apart at the 200-foot level.

It appeared that a prize which now aggregate $29,960, would be withdrawn, as announced, at midnight tomorrow. The original $25,000 was posted shortly after Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's flight of the Atlantic ocean in 1927, but no man has yet winged without halt from Seattle to Tokyo.

With his old, but splendidly equipped plane demolished and sunk, Browne was dejected. He had no immediate expectation of obtaining another plane for a third attempt—even should the prize committee agree to extend the limit.

Brooks, who had intended to drop in a parachute after refueling, was in a rare compartment of the Lone Star as Frank Whaley's biplane came into position overhead. A 50-pound weight had been tied to the hose.

The leaded hose swung back to the tail assembly and caught the stabilizer, ripping completely through the rear controls.

The Lone Star dived about 700 feet. As Brooks attempted to right it, a wing crumpled under the weight of the 660 gallon load of gasoline. The plane fell sideways and the other wing collapsed. Both men jumped. A speed boat rescued them.

"I don't know why I've had so many bad breaks," said the 36-year old New Yorker, who learned to fly in the army. He waited days

INQUEST OF HUGHES DEATH IS ORDERED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—(UP)—Preparations for an inquest into the death of Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes, which, authorities hoped, would clear the mystery of her death and the mystery surrounding public defender Frank J. Egan, were all but complete today.

Whether Egan will testify at the hearing, set for tomorrow, was not disclosed by his attorney, Vincent Hallinan. He said Egan would attend the inquest, but that he (Hallinan) would pass on what questions Egan would answer.

Egan disappeared a few days after Mrs. Hughes' body was found, ostensibly the victim of a hit-and-run driver, in a street some distance from her home. He reappeared in a private sanitarium, weak and disheveled. He did not explain his disappearance.

Police claimed Mrs. Hughes was murdered by persons who deliberately drove a heavy automobile over her body.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

SANTA MONICA, May 31.—(To the Editor of The Register:) Now the sales tax thing is going to pass; may not pass this year, for all the boys are up for election and they want to show their voter where he is not to pay anything, but as soon as election is over and when they get back in they will go ahead and pass it, for it's the fairest and easiest to collect. No nation that ever tried it ever abandoned it. What's the difference between a lot of taxes put on a lot of articles and a few taxes put on everything but the cheapest necessities? So come on Herbert, make up your mind.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

HOOVER PLEADS BEFORE SENATE FOR SALES TAX

tax bill "practically every form of tax has been suggested."

"It may well be," the president continued, "that the income tax already has been raised to the point of diminishing returns. It appears advisable that some relief be given to earned income."

"In order to aid unemployment and avoid wasteful expenditures for public works," he continued, "I have favored an increased contribution for the Reconstruction Finance corporation."

"In your hands at this moment," the president concluded, "rests the decision whether democracy has the power to act swiftly enough to save itself in an emergency."

The senate and the scores of house members who had deserted their own chamber to hear the president's appeal for swift action to balance the budget, rose and applauded as the chief executive finished his address at 12:21 p. m. and left the chamber.

Text of Message

The text of President Hoover's special message follows:

"An emergency has developed in the last few days which it is my duty to lay before the senate."

"The continued downward movement in the economic life of the country has been particularly accelerated during the past few days and it relates in part definitely to the financial program of the government."

"These can be no doubt that superimposed upon other causes the long continued delays in the passage of legislation providing for such reduction in expenses and such addition to revenues as would balance the budget, together with proposals of projects which would greatly increase governmental expenditures, have given rise to doubt and anxiety as to the ability of our government to meet its responsibilities."

"These fears and doubts have been foolishly exaggerated in foreign countries. They know from bitter experience that the course of unbalanced budgets is the road of ruin. They do not realize that slow as our processes may be we are determined and have the resources to place the finances of the United States on an unassailable basis."

"The immediate result has been to create an entirely unjustified run upon the American dollar from foreign countries and today despite our national wealth and resources and unparalleled gold reserves our dollar stands at a discount in the markets of the world. This can be and must be immediately corrected or the reaction upon our economic situation will be such as to cause great losses to our people and will still further retard recovery. Nor is the conclusion in public mind and the rising feeling of doubt and fear confined to foreign countries. It reflects itself directly in diminished economic activity and increased unemployment within our own borders and among our own citizens. There is thus further stress upon already diminished and strained economic life of the country."

Sectional Interest

"No one has a more sympathetic realization than I of the difficulties and complexities of the problem with which the congress is confronted. The decrease in revenues due to the depression by upwards of $1,000,000,000 and the consequent necessity to reduce government expenditures, the sacrifice such reduction calls for from many groups and sections, the further sacrifice called for in the distribution of the remaining burden by the imposition of new taxes all constitute a problem which naturally arouses wide divergence of sectional interest and personal views."

"Yet if we are to secure a just distribution of these sacrifices in such fashion as to establish confidence in the integrity of the government we must secure an adjustment of these views to quick and prompt national action, directed at one sole purpose, that is to unfetter the rehabilitation of industry, agriculture and unemployment. The time has come when we must all make sacrifices of some of our particular views and bring these dangers and degenerations to halt by expeditious action."

"In the stress of this emergency I have conferred with members of both parties of the senate as to methods by which the strains and stresses could be overcome and the gigantic resources and energies of our people released from the fetters in which they are held. I have felt in the stress of this emergency a grave responsibility rests upon me not only to present the situation to the senate but to make suggestions as to the basis of adjustment between these views which I hope will lead to early action. And I am addressing myself to the senate on this occasion as the major question under consideration is now before this body."

Three Duties

"We have three major duties in legislation in order to accomplish our fundamental purposes."

"1. Drastic reduction of expenditures."

"2. Passage of adequate revenue legislation, the combination of which with reductions will unquestionably beyond all manner of doubt declare to the world the balancing of the federal budget and the stabilization of the American dollar."

"3. Passage of adequate relief legislation to assure the country against distress and to aid in employment pending the next session of congress.

"It is essential that when we ask our citizens to undertake the burdens of increased taxation we must give to them evidence of reduction of every expenditure not absolutely vital to the immediate conduct of the government. The executive budget of last December provided for a reduction of expenditures in the next fiscal year over the then estimated expenditures of the current year by about $370,000,000. I have recommended to the congress from time to time the necessity for passage of legislation which would give authority for further important reductions in expenditures not possible for consideration by either the executive or the committees of congress without such legislation."

Honest Effort

"An earnest non-partisan effort was made to secure these purposes in a national economy bill in the House, but it largely failed. That subject is under review by the bipartisan committee appointed from the members of the Senate appropriations committee and I am informed it has tentatively agreed upon a recommendation which would aggregate savings of $250,000,000 together with a number of undetermined further possibilities. I am not informed as to details of these recommendations, although I learn that my own suggestions in many instances have not been accepted. But I do know that the committee has made honest and earnest effort to reach a just reduction in expenditures and I trust therefore that despite any of our individual views the sacrifice of any group, that we can unite in support and expeditious adoption of the committee's conclusions. In addition to the economies which may be brought about through the economy bill, the direct reductions of the appropriations committee should increase this figure to at least $400,000,000 not including certain postponements to later deficiency bills. As this form forms the basis of calculation as to increased taxes necessary it is essential that no matter what the details may be, that amount of reduction must be obtained or taxes must be increased to compensate."

"If this minimum of $400,000,000 is attained by congressional action together with the $350,000,000 effected through executive budget, except for amounts already budgeted for public works in aid to unemployment and increased costs of recovery, we will have reduced expenditures to the lowest point since 1916."

"In the matter of tax legislation, we must face the plain and unpalatable fact that due to the degeneration in the economic situation during the past month the estimates of fertility of taxes which have been made from time to time based upon the then current prospects of business must be relinquished to take account of the decreasing business activity and shrinking values. The finance committee has been advised that the setbacks of the past month now make it evident that if we are to have absolute assurance of the needed income with breadth of base which would make a certainty of the collections we must face additional taxes to those now proposed by the senate finance committee. I recognize the complaint that estimates of the taxes required and reductions of expenses needed have been repeatedly increased, but on the other hand it should be borne in mind that if tax and economy legislation recommended from time to time since last December had been promptly enacted there would have been less degeneration and stagnation in the country."

"But it is unprofitable to argue any such questions. We must face the situation as it exists today."

Plans Advanced

"In the course of the six months during which the revenue bill has been considered in the house and senate practically every form of tax has been suggested at one time or another, many have found their way into the bill later to be rejected. The total amount congress originally set out to obtain has been gradually whittled down either by actual reductions or degeneration of the situation while needs have increased."

"If we examine the major sources of possible increases in taxes now proposed and the nature of taxes already voted, it may well be that the income taxes have already been raised to the point of diminishing returns through avoidance which will ensure by the use of tax-exempt securities and are already so high as to approach the danger point in retardation of enterprise. It is advisable that more relief should be given to earned incomes. Nor will further increase in income tax, even including the proposal of Senator Connally cover the gap in our revenues to reduce expenses to the full amount. I have stated the senate has already imposed a multitude of specific manufacturers' excise taxes on special industries some of them appear discriminatory and uncertain in their productivity. I have not and do not favor a general sales tax."

"It has not been proposed by the treasury. A sales tax is not, however, to be confused with an extension of the special manufacturers' excise tax with exemptions of food and clothing. This is an entirely different tax from a so-called sales tax and cannot be pyramided. Even this general manufacturers' excise tax has not been proposed by the treasury, although at the time such a tax was unanimously recommended by the ways and means committee of the house, representing both political parties and their leaders in the house of representatives, the secretary of the treasury accepted it in the hope that immediate passage of the bill would result. In order, however, to solve our problem and give assurance to the country and assure the impregnability of the American dollar to the world that we are ready to meet our emergency at any sacrifice, I have now come to favor an extension for a limited period of the many special excise taxes to a more general manufacturers' excise tax and will support the congress if it should be adopted. Whether this be the course or not some further emergency tax sources should be incorporated in the pending bill."

Relief Problem

"Our third problem is that of relief. The sharp degeneration has its many reflections in distress and hardship upon our people. I hold that the maintenance of the essence of individual and personal responsibility of men to their neighbors and the proper separation of functions of the federal and local governments requires the maintenance of the fundamental principle that the obligation of distress rests upon the individuals, upon the communities and upon the states. In order, however, that there may be no failure on the part of any state to meet its obligation in this direction I have, after consultation with some of the party leaders on both sides, favored authorization to the reconstruction finance corporation to loan up to $500,000,000 to state governments where they are unable to finance themselves in provision of relief to distress. Such loans should be made by purchase of state bonds by the corporation but where states are unable to issue bonds loans should be made upon application of state authorities and if they are not regulated by the issuance of bonds within a period of 12 to 18 months they should become a charge upon the federal aid funds to which such states may be entitled."

Gives Increases

"In order to aid unemployment and to avoid wasteful expansion of public works I have favored an authority of the reconstruction corporation to increase its issues of its securities to the maximum of $3,000,000,000 in order that it may extend its services both in aid to employment and agriculture on a wide scale. Under the methods proposed the corporation is to be (a) authorized to buy bonds from political subdivisions or public bodies to aid in construction of income producing or self-liquidating projects; (b) to make loans to establish enterprises upon adequate security, for advancement of sound projects that will increase employment but safeguarded by requirement that some portion of outside capital is also provided; (c) to divert a portion of the unexpended authorizations of agriculture loans through the secretary of agriculture to the finance experts of agricultural products; (d) to make loans to institutions upon security of agricultural commodities to assure the carrying of normal stocks of these commodities and thus by stabilizing their loans value to steady their price levels; (e) to make loans to the federal farm board to extend extension of finance to farm co-operatives."

"I have not been able to favor the expansion of public works beyond the program already proposed in the budget. I have for many years advocated speeding up of public works as relief to unemployment in times of depression. Since the beginning of this depression, in consequence with this view, the federal government will have expended in excess of $1,500,000,000 in construction and maintenance of one kind or another as against a normal program of perhaps $650,000,000 for a similar period. The budget for next year calls for over $550,000,000 or double our usual outlay. If we shall now increase these programs we shall need instantly to increase taxes still further. We have already forced every project which we have justification with any regard to the taxpayer and the avoidance of sheer waste. It is not my desire on this occasion to argue the comparative merits of extending such a program and that of financing an even larger program of employment on productive works through the Reconstruction Finance corporation. We are indeed all desirous of serving our fellow citizens who are in difficulty and we must serve them in such fashion that we do not increase the ranks of unemployed. I may emphasize that this alternative program avoids drain upon the taxpayer and above all it favors to balance our budget and

Only a handful of spectators was in the large committee room to see the unusual sight of a speaker of the house personally urging a piece of legislation. A number of those in the slender audience were identified as World War veterans, members of the "bonus army" congregated here.

S. A. ELKS WIN RITUALISTIC COMPETITION EXPECT HITLER TO BE LEADER NEXT CABINET

Santa Ana Elk's lodge ritualistic team won first place in competition with five other teams in the first leg of district contest which was held at the local Elk's hall Sunday. The local team scored 97.129 out of a possible 100.

Other teams competing with Santa Ana were as follows given in the order in which these teams placed: Anaheim, Redlands, San Bernardino, Riverside and Ontario.

Sunday was the first time in many years that the local team has won a place in the annual ritualistic contests. The team will meet Tuesday night, winner of that division, at El Centro on June 12. The winner of this competition will go into the finals at the annual state Elk's association convention to be held in San Jose in October.

Members of the local team are as follows: Gilbert Campbell, exalted ruler; Harry D. Hyde, local knight; Robert Walger, local knight; Robert Curry, lecturing knight; Donald Jerome, esquire; E. L. Vegley, chaplain; and V. L. Motry, inner guard.

Confidence of Fascists was summed up in the statement of Hitler's newspaper Angriff.

"The hour of the National-Socialist party has struck."

This optimism was reflected by responsible politicians. They admitted the latest Nazi gain, control of the Oldenburg diet in Sunday's voting, indicated desire of the nation for a change in government. It also was pointed out that although President Hindenburg spent only five minutes or so in conference with various political leaders after Bruening's resignation, he remained closeted with Hitler for 45 minutes.

Alfred Hugenberg, Nationalist leader, was expected to share responsibility with Hitler in forming a new cabinet. Minor right wing parties also would be included. Obviously Bruening's Catholic party would not support this combination.

Fall of the Bruening cabinet after a record tenure of office of 26 months was attributed indirectly to Bruening's determined stand in demanding that the president keep the army out of politics. This probably forced Hindenburg to abandon the plan for a non-party government dominated by army leaders.

Minority Leader Snell of the house said today that the prohibition plank in the Republican platform will be "liberal."

Snell made the assertion after conferring with President Hoover. He made it clear, however, that the subject was not discussed with the president.

Snell, who is permanent chairman of the Republican national convention, said in response to questions that "the plank will be satisfactory."

"The prohibition plank in our platform is going to be liberal," Snell said. "No matter what you hear you can believe that—and it will be satisfactory."

"But I want it clear that I did not mention this to the president," Snell added as he left the White House. "I never have mentioned prohibition to Mr. Hoover, now or at any other time."

Snell said his conference with the president was "on a number of things including the revenue bill and balancing the budget."

He refused to amplify this or his ideas on how liberal the prohibition plank would be.

The task of shaping the Republican platform for the Chicago convention is being undertaken by James R. Garfield of Cleveland, a former secretary of interior and son of President Garfield. Garfield, acting as chairman of the resolutions committee after it had been decided not to have a senator in that position, is understood to have discussed the platform at length with Mr. Hoover.

AMARILLO, Tex., May 31.—(UP)—Harold Bromley, who started from New York for Tokio, hoping to win a $29,000 prize, was stranded here today while mechanics worked desperately to equip his plane with a new fuel line.

Bromley hoped to take off at daybreak again. He planned to stop at Burbank, Calif., and Seattle. Then he intended to hop for Tokio, in an attempt to win the $29,000 prize offered for a successful flight.

The rules of the offer said the trip must be completed by June 1. Bromley's leaky fuel line caused him to land here last night. According to reports circulated here a friend was negotiating with the contest committee in Seattle, hoping to get an extension of time. Bromley left New York yesterday.

NO FATALITIES REPORTED IN ORANGE COUNTY

Ten names were added to the list of traffic casualties for the county during the double holiday, bringing the total to 17, according to official reports. While there were several bad wrecks, no fatalities were recorded, inquiries revealed.

Three persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a spectacular wreck on the San Diego state highway, near Galvan, north of San Juan Capistrano, when Mrs. Mabel Caldwell, 68, North Harper avenue, Hollywood, attempted to pass three other cars, all going in the same direction. Those injured were: Mrs. Caldwell; Marvin D. Anshutz, 54, 977 Coloma street, Los Angeles; and W. C. Edwards, 973 Calzona street, Los Angeles. They were taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital for treatment.

Four Cars Involved

According to a report filed by State Traffic Officers Geo. Stinson and Roy Bradford, Mrs. Caldwell, going north, attempted to pass three cars, driven by Anshutz; T. W. Stoll, 2310 Ellendale Place, Los Angeles; and F. W. Halderman, 131 West Steveth street, Los Angeles. On the approach of another car, coming from the opposite direction, Mrs. Caldwell became confused, and in order to avoid a threatening head-on collision, she swerved violently to the right, crowding the Stoll and Halderman machines off the road, and crashed into the Anshutz car.

Frank DeChos, 35, P. O. Box 175, San Juan Capistrano, was taken to the Orange county hospital last night following an automobile accident which occurred at the intersection of the state highway and Orangeflower avenue. A car driven by Keith Fields, 27, Route 2, Box 50, Whittier, collided with one driven by Jack Delone, 110 North Resh street, Anaheim.

Mrs. V. S. McNeil, 67, of 108 North Ross street, Santa Ana, sustained minor injuries late Sunday evening when her car in which she was a passenger, driven by Harold Burr, 43, of 813 Santee street, Los Angeles, ran off the road and landed in a ditch. The accident happened on the San Diego highway near Irvine. The driver attempted to avoid a loose horse walking in the middle of the highway. In doing so, Burr lost control of the car.

Children Hurt

Michael Reichert, 33, U. S. S. Richmond, San Pedro, and C. L. Ruckman, 51, 361 West 52nd place, Los Angeles, sustained minor injuries Sunday night when their cars collided on the coast highway near Newport Beach.

Three children, Consuelo Yelas, 8; her sister, Annie Yelas, 10, both living at Stanton; and Virgie Stearns, 11, Midway City, received cuts and bruises, in a traffic accident yesterday afternoon on the state highway near the county hospital, involving a car driven by Green B. Presslon, 38, of 46 1-2 Plaza Center, Orange, and Grethorio Yelas, 48, of Stanton. The children were taken to the county hospital where their injuries were treated.

No injuries resulted from a traffic mishap yesterday afternoon on the state highway near Tustin when cars driven by Mrs. Gertrude M. Newsom, 1259 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, and Herbert L. Holman, 1206 1-2 North Parton, Santa Ana, collided.

Local Briefs

The salesmanship class session under Dr. Paul Ivey of the University of Southern California, which was scheduled tonight at the Junior college, has been postponed until Thursday night, it is announced by members of the committee in charge.

Even in 2000 B. C. they used bath towels. This is born out in findings in an Egyptian tomb by an expedition of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

REALTORS AND BANKERS SAY MORE ACTIVITY

Interest and activity in real estate matters in Santa Ana are gaining impetus recently, according to the expressed opinions of many local real estate brokers. More people are making inquiries about both town and ranch properties. Confidence in the value of real estate in Southern California as an investment has been emphasized by the local realty board and has brought forth tangible results, leading real estate brokers declared.

Local bankers are more optimistic in regard to the betterment of local conditions in the near future than they have been for some time. With shipments of Valencia oranges already having been made by many of the orange packing houses, and the money which will flow into Santa Ana and the entire county as the result of payment on pools shipped in the near future, bankers expected money to be much freer soon than it has been for some time.

The citrus crop brings from $35,000,000 to more than $50,000,000 in some years, to this county annually. The release of this huge amount of cash in the county, even though it is extended over a period of time as a result of extended payments on pools of oranges exported and shipped to other parts of the United States, is expected by bankers to bring about conditions in all cities of the country that will be decidedly for the better.

Cutler to Build $5000 Home Here

A building permit has been issued to Horace M. Cutler, 823 South Van Ness street, for the construction of a six-room English style residence at 2103 North Ross, at an estimated cost of $5000. Contract for the work has been let to Pete Hanniger, local building contractor.

Unemployed Team Wins Ball Game

The baseball team from the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana, led by Captain Dick Rogers, defeated a team from the Orange association in a game held at the Eddie Martin airport yesterday in conjunction with an air circus. The final score being 6 to 4.

NEW RELIEF COMMITTEE TO BE SELECTED

Appointment of a new citizens' advisory unemployment emergency relief committee, replacing the one appointed by former Mayor John L. Knox, and the signing of a contract for the sinking of a new water well on North Olive street, are among matters to be taken up at a special called meeting of the city council, to be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the city hall, according to Mayor Paul B. Witmer.

The former committee, headed by H. F. Rankin, was recently relieved from duty following a request made by the committee and submitted in a letter signed by Ralph Smedley, secretary. At that time the council authorized Mayor Witmer to appoint a smaller committee to act during the summer.

Members of the new committee were to be approved by the council, according to the plan announced at the time of the authorization of the new committee, and names are to be submitted to the council for approval tonight.

The regular session of the council was not held last night, due to the holiday.

Even in 2000 B. C. they used bath towels. This is born out in findings in an Egyptian tomb by an expedition of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

ASKS $7600 FOR FOREST PROTECTION

Action on the request of L. H. Anderson, forest supervisor in charge of the Cleveland National Forest, for $7600 to match a similar fund from the government for use during the next fiscal year on fire protection work in that part of the national forest in Orange county, was delayed today by the board of supervisors until time for consideration of the county budget.

Anderson, in his letter to the board pointed out that, as in the past $7600 would be taken from a special Federal fund for use in that section of the forest that lies in Orange county, providing it is matched by the county. This would create $15,200 for fire prevention work during the year.

In his letter he said that $2500 of the entire fund would be spent for maintenance of firebreaks, trails, motorways, phone lines, lookout station, guard cabins and springs. The remaining $12,700 would be used for construction work.

Petition to abandon the old Orange drive right-of-way at the underpass west of Yorba Linda was granted today. A new right-of-way is in use, removing need for the old route, according to Highway Superintendent Nat Neff.

Charles Haven, of Garden Grove, asked for relief from itinerant peddlers in his community and entered a protest over fumigation of the orange grove of Mrs. Knox, also of Garden Grove. He charged that trees in the grove were damaged by fumigators. A. A. Brock, county agricultural commissioner, informed him that the matter had been taken up with his department by Mrs. Knox some time ago and that investigation revealed that the fumigators were not to blame as they had observed all regulations and precautions required in the work and that the damage was unavoidable due to climatic conditions.

Things you can do to get by until times improve!

Are all of us doing the best we can with whatever money we have these days? It's fashionable to be pessimistic and lay down on the job, but we note a lot of people refusing to let their homes get shabby and here are some of the ways they're doing it at little expense by asking for Horton's aid:

The Windows —

They're coming to us for a bit of braid, tassels, rings, rods, and curtain accessories like those to touch up their hangings. They're bringing in their shade rollers and getting shade cloth to replace torn and worn shades. We're selling a lot of our famous 39c shades. And we're making both curtains and shades to replace old ones.

The Floors —

They're using felt base for replacing old linoleum, which we're selling at 25c a sq. yd. And using the genuine inlaid linoleum at 89c a square yard. Both in bright patterns, economical, long wearing.

Re-Upholstering —

If their chairs or sofas are in bad shape, we're re-uphol-

stering and re-building them, making them like new. Cover fabrics are cheap now.

Repairing, Refinishing —

They're bringing in bedroom, diningroom furniture, and odd pieces to be repaired and refinished in our shops at small expense. Remarkable how this renews shabby looking pieces.

Miscellaneous —

Broken casters scratch floors and can be replaced at Horton's. Pillows can be recovered with remnants and short lengths of fine materials cheaply. Put a rug pad under your rug. Buy a new set of dishes at 50c down and 50c a week. Trade in old furniture as part payment on new. AND MANY OTHER THINGS to help you "get by!"

CHINO DOCTOR ANNOUNCES AS WET CANDIDATE

Dr. Harold R. Miller, a young surgeon located at Chino, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congressman from this Nineteenth district. He comes out flat footedly for economy of government, referendum on prohibition, and light wines and beer.

In announcing his candidacy Dr. Miller said: "I believe that the condition of this nation has arrived at a point of seriousness where capable young men should feel the urge to leave their comfortable businesses and offer their government the best that is in them. Men who know humanity from all angles, who have honesty of purpose, are endowed with just good common sense, and who are blessed with a spirit of tolerance."

"The two issues which are politically paramount today are economy of government and the prohibition question. People are demanding sound money and sane finance, a halt on foreign lending, lessened funding, and a just and equitable but marked reduction in expenditures so that alleviation in taxation will be possible, and the solidarity of the American government preserved."

"The people are further demanding their right to vote on the prohibition question. They want reason and sanity and insist that they have a right to light wine and beer if they so desire."

"The doctor's campaign card says: 'A young man, 37 years of age, leaving a comfortable practice to fight for economy of government. Favors light wine and beer and prohibition referendum. Has a family and prefers law and order.'"

CANDIDATE

Dr. Harold R. Miller, of Chino, below, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress on a wet platform.

PREPAREDNESS ADVOCATED IN LAGUNA TALK

LAGUNA BEACH, May 31.—Col. M. E. Wellington, Santa Ana attorney, used Washington's farewell address, September 19, 1796, in which the first president urged a "national defense, reasonably maintained," in stressing at Memorial day services here yesterday the need for adequate preparedness. He declared that whereas before the World war, the nations maintained armies totalling 20 millions of men that today that number has been increased to 50 millions. Russia, he informed, is gathering in Helsinki park, has a standing army of 500,000 men, and a well trained reserve army of 5,000,000 men that could be put in the field at short notice.

"We are met here today to pay a tribute to our soldier dead," said Colonel Wellington, "but we are not here to mourn them, but to recall to memory the principles for which they fought and to pledge anew our will to carry on the fight."

"The American Legion is working for civic advancement by trying to help those in distress and conducting an unemployment campaign. It is doing child welfare work. In Orange county there are 15 Legion posts and 12 of them are maintaining Boy Scout troops. It is trying to have this movement maintain an adequate defense program. The boys who were 'over there' know what war means and they know that the best way to avoid war is to be prepared for it."

"It is easy to say that everything is wrong; to blame this group or that party. We have been in the midst of a riot of gambling. Even bishops have forgotten the sacredness of office to gamble in stocks. But it is nothing of which we need to worry. The world is in a settling down process following the great war. And the Legion is doing its share to bring about happier times."

The exercises were preceded by a parade led by Attorney Leslie F. Kimmell on horseback as marshal. He was followed by a color guard, a firing squad of Legionnaires, the Woman's Relief corps, Legion auxiliary, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Cub Scouts, all in uniform.

Fred Warman, commander of Legion post No. 222, presided at the exercises. Following community singing of "America," the Rev. Raymond L. Brahm, chairman of the post, delivered the invocation. Mrs. Lauretta Chilton sang and then Colonel Wellington delivered the address.

Following the exercises, flowers were strewn on the ocean from the end of the pier by members of the patriotic societies.

DO YOU INHALE?

Is this question too revealing for other cigarettes?

WE do not criticize others. We merely call your attention to the fact that the vital subject of inhaling has been generally avoided in cigarette advertising.

Why? What's there to be afraid of? Everybody inhales! Seven out of ten smokers inhale knowingly—the other three do so without realizing it. From your side—you want to be sure that the smoke you breathe in is pure and clean—free from certain impurities.

But from the manufacturer's side—he should be sure of giving you this protection. And if he is sure—he need not worry about the question: "Do you inhale?"

Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

REV. HATTER SPEAKER FOR LEGIONNAIRES

Contrasting the peace and quiet of the church with the fields of carnage and shrieking shells of war, the Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the Church of the Messiah, Episcopal, delivered a Memorial day address to members of the Santa Ana American Legion and Auxiliary at a special service held Sunday morning in the local church.

Legionnaires wore their caps and the drill team and drum and bugle corps were attired in full dress uniform. Members of the Auxiliary drill team were also dressed in uniform. Headed by Commander Rodney Bacon, the group marched to the church in a body after assembling at the Legion hall.

"These all died in faith," the Rev. Hatter said, quoting from Hebrews 11:13. "The words of the text are applicable to those whose death was the price of victory. They had faith in a great cause. They were sure it would triumph because they believed in a God of righteousness."

Dedicate Service
Today we meet in the delightful stillness of the church. What a contrast to the fields of carnage and shrieking shells. In reverence and with a feeling of gratefulness, we dedicate this service in affectionate remembrance of those who gave all for us to live, life itself, for God and country, for loved ones, for home, for the sacred cause of justice.

"Their lives typify service, hazards boldly made and courageously enacted. Because other men died, we live, possess and enjoy, and because of this we give due recognition to our thankfulness for God and the deliverance wrought through these men. So today we offer our humble thanks to God for victories won and our heartfelt gratitude to the men who were our shield of defense."

"Today is a day of solemn memories. Today is a day of consolation and reflection. It is the quality and not the quantity of life that really counts. Think, then, how complete in fullness of devotion were those whose short lives were given for God and the public good. Today is a day of re-consecration of ourselves to God and the country. The times are perplexing.

Need Vigilance
"In 1914 we underestimated the strength of the opposing force. In 1932 we are underestimating the strength of the opposing subtle forces in the United States. There is no need for panic, but there is a call for vigilance. The better conditions of which we dream will not come of themselves, they must be planned for, worked for, prayed for, fought for, yes, and it may be—died for."

"Those we memorialize today thought the country worth dying for. It is worth living for. Your commander in chief, General John Pershing, says 'we are in a war against depression and crime. Our unpreparedness of 1914-17 cost untold billions of dollars and the lives of the finest of men. In this battle of peace our unpreparedness has cost us dear. To each one of us comes the challenge: What are you doing for your country?—What will you do for your country?'"

TWO ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF DRIVING DRUNK

Vigilance on the part of state traffic and local police officers patrolling the highways over the holiday resulted in the arrest of two drunk drivers, according to reports filed by officers.

Charles H. Holman, 40, chicken culler, 572 Pedley avenue, Norco, was picked up early this morning by Officers Coltrane and Elitiste of the Orange city police as he came to a stop in front of the Orange post office. He was towing a disabled car at the time, which circumstance, coupled with Holman's driving and the early morning hours, aroused the suspicion of the officers. He was booked at county jail on a driving drunk charge. He had a gun in his possession when arrested. Accompanying Holman was Mrs. E. Hanson, 38, a nurse of Orange, who also was taken in custody and held on an intoxication charge.

State traffic officers Joe Clever and Ben Craig arrested Ernest Rangel, 25, Mexican laborer, La Jolla on Ocean avenue, and booked him on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Buena Park Man Bitten By Dog

Albert Meyers, oil worker, Second and Marshall streets, Buena Park, was bitten yesterday by a dog, believed to be suffering from rabies, according to a report filed at the Fullerton police headquarters. Meyers was given emergency treatment by Dr. Green, Fullerton police surgeon, and the matter was referred to the county health department for action.

LAND GIVEN FOR PARK REFUSED BY BEACH CITY

After requesting the county for a strip of land 700 by 65 feet along Cliff drive the city of Laguna Beach has refused to accept ownership of the tract, according to word received this morning by the board of supervisors.

Refusal of the city to accept the deed is said to be due to the fact that street improvement assessments against the property, due at this time, total $777.85. Word that the city had repudiated the gift did not come from the city officials but from the Municipal Securities company and the form of a notice to pay the assessments.

The property in question was originally deeded to the county by the Heisler estate to be used for park purposes. Some time ago, at the request of city officials the property was deeded to the city of Laguna Beach for use as a city park and to be included in the street improvement program. The deed was delivered to officials of the city by Supervisor George Jeffrey and accepted at that time.

On order of the board today, the city will be asked for immediate return of the deed and the property will be advertised for sale.

ALLEGED BANDIT ARRAIGNED HERE

Accused of holding up the cafe of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Indovina Jr., at 723 East Surf avenue in Newport Beach Sunday night, securing $9.90, Gilbert E. Petterson, 25, of Long Beach, was arraigned in the justice court of Kenneth Morrison this morning. Bond of $3000 was set.

According to R. R. Hodgkinson, chief of police at Newport Beach, Petterson was in the cafe as a patron before the holdup. When he returned Sunday night, the proprietor remembered that he had been in before and recalled that he had talked with other patrons. The latter gave Petterson's address to Newport Beach police and his arrest followed. According to Chief Hodgkinson, Petterson claimed that he was intoxicated when he walked into the cafe, pulled out a gun and demanded Indovina's money.

VENIREMEN ALL WET

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Veniremen who had succeeded in dodging jury duty in the Sam Louder murder trial were given an unexpected bath when they were housed in a court room directly under a group of boys who had been arrested and placed in jail above. The boys broke the plumbing fixtures in the jail and the escaping water sent a deluge down onto the veniremen below.

MEMORIAL IS DEDICATED BY D. A. V. CHAPTER

With a splendid attendance from the Disabled Veterans of the World War, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, all-Auxiliaries and from local parishes, an impressive flag pole dedication service was held at the Holy Sepulcher cemetery, near Irvine Park, yesterday by the D. A. V. Jack Fisher chapter.

The program was featured by a dedication address made by Commander Earl B. Hawks of the D. A. V., a prayer by Chaplain James R. Thompson, the blessing of the flag by the Rev. Father F. A. Weckman, raising of the colors, in charge of Michael P. Lynch of the D. A. V., A. Wetzel of the American Legion and Boy Scouts; a prayer by the Rev. Father Weckman, a patriotic address by the Rev. Father T. B. Noonan. The ceremony was concluded by the playing of Taps.

The memorial was formally dedicated to the memory of Lt. Commander John G. M. Johnson, who was the first veteran buried in the cemetery and the first to have his name inscribed on the roll of honor on the memorial.

"Freedom for reasonable speech, the right and will to worship, progressive educational opportunities, sound economic adjustments and recognition of the rights of the weak, are the five basic foundations of free institutions," Commander Hawks said in his address. "These free institutions have been won and defended for us by a baptism of fire and blood and sacrifice."

"We would fall the memory of the dead unless we were willing to stand ready to carry on the work which the hand of death interrupts. The path for life they blaze for us must ever lead us to a greater faith, to a greater service."

The Rev. Father Noonan's address was in the form of an appeal to the living to take up the spiritual and moral responsibilities placed on the living by the sacrifices of the heroes of the wars. Only by a steady adherence to God's will and loyalty to trust of citizenship can mankind realize the heights of achievement, he said.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor, The Register:
Someone recently made the remark to me that the subject matter of articles appearing in the "Public Forum" so often was comprised of complaints and criticisms that they hesitated to read them. What I wish to say cannot be included in either category but is prompted by a desire to not only call to the attention of the general public the work being done by the Santa Ana Symphony Orchestra, but to express my opinion about the value of such an organization in our community.

In the first place, the various musical groups of Santa Ana, made up of a large number of our own citizens, consistently and generously give of their time, effort and talents to other groups such as service clubs, civic organizations, Community Players and benefits of all kinds. We have an opportunity now to show our appreciation by buying tickets to the benefit concert to be given at the high school auditorium on Thursday, June 2.

Apart from commercial and natural advantages of this community, there are other civic assets that are making living in Santa Ana more worth while.

Our orchestra has won a reputation which spreads far beyond our own community and which reflects great credit on us as a city of people able to understand, appreciate and support such a splendid cultural project. It is in this way a real asset to this city.

Further than that, the orchestra affords the one opportunity for our musically trained young people to use their ability in a real orchestral experience. It gives them a chance to play great music with a complete orchestration instead of leaving them with jazz or orchestras as their only outlet. It has a true educational value, and it provides a goal—a prize for which the young people may work as music students looking forward to the time when they shall be able to play well enough to get into the orchestra.

It occurs to me that when a young man or woman gets through high school and college, where good music has been emphasized, there is danger of a slump—of forgetting what has been learned, because of lack of an opportunity to continue to study and play the best in music. Our orchestra gives them the incentive and the opportunity which they need.

When we support our Symphony Orchestra, as we are asked to do this week, we are not merely promoting our own chance to hear good music well played, but we are giving our own people the chance to continue their musical education and expression which can hardly be provided otherwise.

WHITTIER HERE TO CHALLENGE S. A. LEAD

william braucher

Bill Roper is generally credited with saying "the team that won't be beaten can't be beaten." The crack has become as well worn as the one about "when you carry a umbrella, it never rains." But there's more than a grain of truth in it all that.

Some of the most inspiring triumphs in sports have been scored by fair to mediocre teams with the will to win. Those pennant-winning Braves of 18 years ago had such a team. The club was in last place July 4, but it not only won the pennant but licked the great 1914 Athletics four straight. And now look at the Cincinnati Reds!

THEY'RE ON FIRE

The Reds are ablaze with the ambition to win. They have breathed the hot spark of invincibility and there is no telling how far they'll go with it. A pennant? Well, on some days you have to think they'll win it.

It is a team that has begun to believe it shouldn't lose. Every player on the team is convinced the Reds are destined to win. It is hard to beat a team imbued with the idea of its own greatness. Mediocre pitchers become mighty moundmen. Puny hitters acquire the illusion that all pitchers are their cousins. What is only a fair infield on paper becomes a marvelous defensive machine on the field.

READY TO FIGHT

The Reds are ready to fight. They have shown it, coming into the bases with spikes flying. They are actually sore at teams that take the lead in a game with them. The players are not only willing but anxious to toss their best Sunday punches at their opponents.

The team is taking every advantage it can get. Leo Durocher, castoff Yankee shortstop, came hurtling into second base the other day, adopting the Marchmont Schwartz off-tackle technique. When he failed to dislodge the ball from Shortstop Dick Bartell's hands, he hauled away and let the Pirate player have it on the chin. Of course he was suspended and fined for the assault. But it is by such punishments that a team's morale is often measured. Now the whole team takes the attitude that somebody had better get out of its way, or there's going to be trouble.

FANS INFLAMED

The fighting spirit has spread into the stands. It required a riot call to restore order in a recent game with the Giants and, when the blowoff came, with a shower of pop bottles, the Giants were ahead by eight runs.

In the first half of the inning, Hushby Critz, trying to stretch a triple into a home run, spilled. Catcher Lombardi's hand. The big Italian was led from the field, his fingers streaming with blood. The stands growled.

Asbjornsen, or "Asby" as he is called, replaced Lombardi. In the Reds' half of the inning, Asby grounded to Critz who raced over and slid into first base, with his spikes well out in front of him. Asby slid into the bag the same way.

Umpire Will Klem called the Reds' catcher out. A bellows of rage broke from the stands, followed by a cascade of pop bottles.

Lindstrom and Ott, Giant outfielders, spoke soothingly to the embattled blanchettes, but the only response their oratory won was the raucous cry "Get McGraw!"

Finally Babe Herman, the new Cincy outfielder, ran out to the petulant pavilion shouting, "Fair play, men, fair play!" and the tempest subsided.

Ball clubs invading Redland this year need expect no tea parties. It's going to be a brawl all the way down the line.

McLEOMORE AWAITS TUFF OVER SHARKEY-SCHMELING REFEREE AS NEXT MOVE IN "BUILD-UP"

BY HENRY McLEOMORE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 31.—(UP)—The "build-up" for the battle ofunken garden has been so magnificently uncanceled that it requires no Evangeline Adams to sense that the next important step in the ballyhoo will come when the referee is mentioned.

You know what will happen then. No matter which licensed arbiter is mentioned first, he won't suit Jacobs and will suit Buckley, or vice versa. There will then be threats, counter threats, charges and counter charges. And in the end, the boys will simmer down and take the third man appointed by the boxing commission.

For the commission can do no wrong. Under the laws of New York the three dukes are given complete power to handle boxing as they see fit. The commissioners could decree that Sharkey and Schmeling enter the ring in racoon coats and bearing coal scuttles filled to the brim with lager beer. And if the noble gladiators objected, they would only refuse to appear. And then they'd come up with a suspension that'd last a life time.

If you think the boxing commission isn't the last word in power in this state, just recall some of the absurd things it has done and got by with. Take, for example, that recent ruling of Muldoon the magnificent, in which he abolished the technical knockout. If a boxer is forced to quit in the 10th round of a 15-round bout, say, he doesn't lose on a knockout, but merely drops a 15-round decision. Yeh, buddy, I know it's cuckoo, and so does everybody else. But it's in the books and it will stay until the three dukes see fit to wipe it off.

But to get back to naming of a referee. When Jacobs starts howling over the appointments, I am going to remind him of the clips made by the sound photographer when Schmeling arrived in this country a few months ago. If you happened to see them in your favorite cinema cathedral, you will recall that one found Schmeling answering questions by a group of sports writers.

One of the questions went something like this: "Have you any choice in referees for this scrap?"

To which the champion, after careful schooling by Jacobs, held up his fists, shook them menacingly, and replied:

"These are my referees. I do not care who is the third man in the ring."

All of which, of course, was nothing more than a generous serving of baloney.

ART STRANSKI LOST TO '32 SAINT TEAM?

Art Stranski, sophomore half-back and the outstanding star of spring practice, may not be in condition for the "last year-this year" benefit football game at Santa Ana High Saturday afternoon. Stranski injured his right hand in practice last week, and ordered by the doctor to keep an injured finger in splints for 10 days, the blond Russian may be unable to help Captain "Red" Kidder and his 1932 prospects in their attack on "Toy" Blower's 1931 Southern California champions. Ed Sparks, tackle, is another 1932 candidate on the injured list.

Gene Mako Victor In Junior Singles

LOS ANGELES, May 31.—(UP)—Gene Mako, 16 years old, was junior boys' tennis champion of Southern California today, a title which probably will win him a trip East for competition under the banner of the Southern California Tennis association.

Mako defeated John Law of Pasadena, 6-4, 6-0, 6-2. Teamed with Jack Lynch of Teft, Mako won the doubles title

GRIFFITHS KAYOES JACK ROPER IN 1ST

CHICAGO, May 31.—(UP)—Nate Lewis, Chicago stadium matchmaker, today was negotiating for a bout between "Tuffy" Griffiths, Chicago heavyweight, and Mickey Walker of New Jersey, after Griffiths' successful return to the ring here last night.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS, POLICE ROUT ANTI-OLYMPIC TRIALS

OAKLAND, May 31.—(UP)—California had only a hearty horse laugh today for communists who had been made to appear ridiculous by high school boys and police.

The heartiest chuckles were for the band of "reds" who staged their "anti-Olympic" tryouts here Memorial Day.

The idea, their leaders told a crowd, was to select athletes to compete in events to be held in Chicago at the same time as the Olympic Games and as a counter-attraction.

They called for athletes. A band of 20 youths, dressed in ragged clothing, stepped up and entered all events. The tryouts were held. Members of the group won every place in every event. Then they disclosed themselves as an American group of high school track stars, thumbed their noses at the astonished "reds" and departed.

SUSPENSION OF CHICAGO STARS HELD PROBABLE

CLEVELAND, May 31.—(INS)—From two directions, high moguls of the American League sped here today to investigate the severe beating administered Umpire George Moriarty by Chicago White Sox players at the conclusion of yesterday's double-header here.

Will Harridge, president of the American league, was to arrive today from New York to conduct a hearing into the battle royal. Suspensions ranging from 90 days to life can be imposed for attacking an umpire.

CLEVELAND, May 31.—(UP)—The most sensational attack on an umpire in major league baseball history may result in suspension of several Chicago White Sox players. It was indicated today as an investigation was started into the assault on Umpire George Moriarty.

William Harridge, president of the American league, and officials of the Cleveland Indians and Chicago planned to confer concerning the attack of White Sox players, including Manager Lew Fonseca, on Moriarty following Cleveland's double defeat of Chicago here yesterday.

Moriarty's Hand Injured Moriarty suffered an injured hand when he hit Milton Gaston, Sox pitcher. His head was lacerated by spikes and his body bruised in the assault by at least four Chicago players, physicians at the Cleveland clinic said his would not be serious although he was badly beaten.

According to Cleveland players who had escorted the umpire from the field and urged him to hurry to his dressing room before trouble occurred, Charlie Berry, Sox catcher and former All-American football player, accused Moriarty of "missing" a strike on Earl Averill before the latter's ninth inning triple won the second game for Cleveland.

The umpire is alleged to have challenged the "entire Chicago team, one by one." Gaston, allegedly, insisted on being the first. He swung at Moriarty, Cleveland players said, and the umpire thrashed him, knocking him "out." Then, according to the Clevelanders, Berry, Catcher Frank Grube and Fonseca rushed the umpire and beat him while the Cleveland players tried to pull them off.

Warns Brother Umpire Bill Dineen, second umpire, was warned by Moriarty to keep out of the melee when he reached the scene before the umpire was pulled to his feet by Sewell, Connater

SPORT BULLETINS

SAUNTON, Eng., May 31.—(UP)—Enid Wilson, the defending champion, defeated Mrs. Glenna Collett Vane of Philadelphia, 4 and 2 in a third round match of the British Women's golf championship today.

Mrs. Leona Pressler Cheney of Hollywood, Cal., was then the only American remaining in the competition. Mrs. Cheney won her third round match one up eliminating the British star, Miss Doris Park, one up.

Miss Virginia Van Wie lost in the second round to Miss Louise Toulhurst, Australian champion, one down, 19 holes.

Tickets for Santa Ana Hi's 1931-1932 football game, for the benefit of local unemployment relief, went on sale today at the Victor Walker sporting goods store, 219 West Fourth street. The duets will sell for 25 cents. The game will be played at Poly field Saturday.

Arranged under the auspices of the Santa Ana Tennis club and the city board of education, the tennis demonstration was attended by a crowd of approximately 500.

Stoefen, twice conquerer of National Champion Ellsworth Vines, broke even in two sets with Jack Tidball, U. C. L. A. captain. Tidball won the first 6-2, Stoefen the second 6-1.

Paired with Santa Ana's Miss Cruickshank, Stoefen took a mixed doubles match from Tidball and Miss Babcock, 6-3, 6-2, 7-6.

HUGGINS HONORED NEW YORK, May 31.—(INS)—A bronze tablet on a rectangular block of red granite six feet high in tribute to the late Miller Huggins, former manager of the New York American league baseball team, today stood at the centerfield flagpole in the Yankee stadium.

The tablet was unveiled in an impressive ceremony between the games of a doubleheader yesterday.

Olympic HOPES

by CLARE BURCKY

FRANK WYKOFF

Six crouching sprinters face the starter. The gun pops and away they go, straining for the finish ribbon. The winner—Frank Wykoff.

That's my picture of the Olympic 100-meter dash finalist at Los Angeles this summer. There are some, probably, who can't see the same picture, at least not this far in advance.

It may seem like only yesterday that Wykoff, an 18-year-old school kid, stepped out to win the United States Olympic qualifier in Harvard stadium. But it was four years ago. They called him the Glendale greyhound, and he had beaten such as Paddock, Scholz, Bracey, McAllister and Russell. He was regarded as the chief American hope against a fast international field at Amsterdam. Wykoff proved just that, but the Canadian Williams, the Englishman London and the German Lammers beat him to the 100 meters tape in the comparatively slow time of 10.4 seconds.

Today Frank is 22, a college senior, national and collegiate champion at 100 yards and holder of the unofficial world record of 9.5 seconds for the century. In three years of championship competition he has been beaten but three times, twice at 220 yards. Among his victims are his Olympic nemesis, Percy Williams, and the Simpsons, Tolans, Bracays, Lelands, Dyers and Toppings of this country.

Wykoff will win at Los Angeles because he will be primed for the games as no other competitor. His schoolboy dream, an Olympic sprint championship, denied at Amsterdam, has remained uppermost in his mind.

E. Robins' 85-18-67 was good for first place in the club's blind bogey and medal play tournament Saturday. Ed Holmes was second.

71,000 SEE CARNER WHIPPED BY GAINES

LONDON, May 31.—(UP)—Larry Gaines, Canadian Negro heavyweight, provided the major upset of the British boxing season last night by winning a 10-round decision over the Italian giant, Primo Carnera.

The fight at White City arena drew 71,000 spectators, one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a fight in England.

Outweighed 268 pounds to 200, the Canadian outfighter Carnera during most of the bout.

YOUTHFUL GOLF FRAMES BREAKS STAR AGES NO. 2 ALL MARKS IN AT S. A. LINKS SPEED VICTORY

Santa Ana's golfing fraternity today wondered what its 13-year-old sensation, Don Kennedy, would do next to astound the Santa Ana Country club membership.

Less than a month after he eliminated opponent after opponent and played for the President's cup, young Kennedy yesterday made his second hole-in-one, completing the grueling 500-mile race in 4 hours, 48 minutes, 37 seconds, the fastest speed ever made in the Indianapolis event first held in 1911.

Howard Wilcox, Indianapolis, in a Lion Head special, finished second after a thrilling duel with Kennedy during the last 75 miles of the race witnessed by a crowd estimated at 155,000.

Only 10 out of the original field of 40 starters finished the race, but four of this number surpassed the former speed record of 101.13 miles an hour made by Peter De Paolo in winning the 1925 race. Wilcox averaged 103.81 miles an hour.

Bergers Takes Third Cliff Bergers, Los Angeles, in a Studebaker special, finished third, averaging 102.66 miles an hour and Bob Carey, Anderson, Ind., graduate of the dirt tracks and competing in his first Indianapolis race, came in fourth, averaging 101.363.

In fifth place was Russ Snowberger, Philadelphia, in a Hupp Comet and he averaged 100.286. An idea of the terrific speed maintained in the Twentieth Memorial Day race can be seen from the fact that until today only two previous winners had averaged as much as 100 miles an hour.

Billy Arnold, Chicago boy who won the 1930 race, averaged 100.488 miles an hour, and was the only other driver since De Paolo to better the 100-mile an hour average until yesterday.

Frame, whose 16-year-old son witnessed his father's victory, drove a careful, steady race, going into the lead on the 157th lap after six previous pacemakers had faltered.

Frame Consistent After the first 100 miles, Frame was always among the first ten. He was sixth at 150 miles, seventh at 250 miles, and second at 300 miles. When Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis, went out with a broken axle on the 157th lap around the 2.1-2 mile brick oval, Frame forged ahead and protested his scant margin over Wilcox until Gar Wood signalled him with the checkered flag.

Frame's victory netted him $20,000 for the first prize, $1,000 in lap prizes and additional awards in oil, gasoline and accessories.

Billy Arnold carried off most of the lap prize money, getting $2,800 for leading from the second lap until he crashed on the 60th lap at a speed of more than 110 miles an hour.

Arnold Unlucky For the second year in succession Arnold met with an accident while setting the pace. He crashed in the same place yesterday that he crashed last year when he was in front after 405 miles, and was laid up for six months with injuries.

The lead changed hands seven times. Lou Moore, Los Angeles, led the first lap, and then relinquished the lead to Arnold's dizzy speed, when Arnold went out at 150 miles, Bob Carey went ahead and held the lead until the 225-mile marker when his machine skidded against the wall and forced him out of the race for seven minutes.

Ernie Triplett, Los Angeles, replaced Carey in the van, but lost the lead at the 275-mile mark when he was forced to the pits. Ira Hart, Terre Haute, Ind., was the fifth leader, but he lost the lead after about 25 miles as pacemaker.

Templeton Will See Eastman Run for Record

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., May 31.—(INS)—The reason that "Blazing Ben" Eastman, sensational Stanford middle distance ace, hopes to break the 800 meter record in Saturday's P. A. A. championship meet at San Francisco, was made known today.

His coach and best friend, R. L. ("Dink") Templeton, who has not seen him run this season, being ill in a hospital, plans to witness the race.

"I'll be there on the sidelines," Templeton said, "I'm getting tired sitting in bed and being only able to read about Ben's great runs and hear others talk about him."

Eastman has already cracked the 440-yard record three times and the 880-yard mark once this season. The 800 meter record is 1:50.6.

THE WINNER

Leaving a string of broken records in his wake, Fred Frame of Los Angeles, (below) drove his tiny gray eight-cylinder car to victory in the twentieth annual Memorial Day auto race at Indianapolis.

Whittier at Santa Ana; Anaheim at Huntington Beach; Westminster at Olive; Long Beach at Torrance.

Whittier's surprising Poels, led by the skyscraper Steve ("String") McDonnell, come to this man's town tonight to see what can be done about Santa Ana's shocking Stars.

Scheduled for the Bowl at 8 o'clock, Whittier's challenge for a place in the sun in the National league's 1932 night baseball race easily rates as the outstanding contest of the new season.

Whittier is firmly entrenched in second place, a single game behind undefeated Santa Ana, and if it halts the cocky Stars this evening can begin the second quarter of the split schedule Friday tied for the lead. But if Santa Ana makes it seven straight victories, the Stars will just about be "in."

McDonnell Back In Form McDonnell's return to form made Whittier this semester.

The giant fast-ball pitcher had a terrific year in 1931, so bad in fact that some of the critics figured old Steve was about through in Double-A night ball, but a rejuvenation process has worked wonders with the lanky, likeable stringbean. He has been throwing with great success all season, a five-hit shutout against Anaheim being the standout of his five wins in six starts. The game he lost to Long Beach, 5-3, was managed by his father, Fred. He didn't start it, although the Acorns assembled their winning runs off him in a belated eighth inning rally.

Whittier so far has taken Olive 7-3, Anaheim 12-0, Westminster 4-3, Huntington Beach 8-2, and Torrance 13-3. In all these successes showing a greatly improved offense. Last year Whittier was very weak with the willow. McDonnell felt prosperous when his mates got him as much as one run.

Team Spirit Improved? There is no explanation for Whittier's change of heart unless it be an improved team spirit under new Manager Fred Hall. Otherwise, the club is substantially as it has been for several seasons.

McDonnell is No. 1 pitcher. No. 2 is young Ernie Contreras. Behind the bat is Pat White. Johnny Rice, formerly an Anaheim outfielder, is handling first base. Nolan, another newcomer, is second. "Red" Moon remains at shortstop and the long-hitting Arlie Hill at third. Jerberg and "Brace" Davis share outfield posts with Coats, who finished the '31 season in a Poet monkey-suit but never played against Santa Ana. Coats has been batting handsomely. Hall has him hitting clean-up now.

Manager George Lackaye of Santa Ana indicated he would pitch Joe Cornelius again, with "Beny" Wilcox catching. The Stars will employ the same lineup that has gone through six games undefeated.

GARDEN GROVE BOAT SECOND IN BAY SAIL

Dick Russell, sailing the skimmer class boat Patricia, won the final sail of the Decoration Day series of yacht races on Alamitos bay yesterday. A minute-and-a-half behind him at the finish was Billy Wagner of Garden Grove, who carried a feminine crew.

BAER IN RENO FOR FIGHT AND DIVORCE SUIT

RENO, Nev., May 31.—(UP)—Max Baer, California's talkative heavyweight fighter, was here today, preparing for two battles.

One was to be against King Levinsky, of Chicago, who, Max freely predicted, will go home a wiser but sadder man after stepping into the ring with him.

The other battle, by Max's own statement, was to be a court affair. He said he planned to file suit for divorce against his wife, the former Dorothy Wells, of Oakland, Cal., whom he married here last July 7.

The Baers, according to rumors, have not been getting along any too well of late.

This Max confirmed by saying, "I don't believe in wasting time, and in view of the fact we can't get along, I'll use the time spent in training in establishing a Nevada residence. After licking the King I'll file suit for divorce."

The charge, he said, will be extreme mental cruelty.

Baer and Levinsky, by terms of their agreements with Leonard Sacks and Jack Dempsey, co-promoters, will fight at Reno July 4. Sacks said the bout would be a "finish" affair.

REV. FISK IN TALK ON 'WHO IS GREATEST?'

EL MODENA, May 31.—The Rev. James E. Fisk used as his subject Sunday morning, "Who Is the Greatest?" He said in part:

"There has been a contest ever since God created man and even before that. One of those that inhabited the earth desired with an evil desire and God cast him out of heaven. The enemy met Eve in the Garden of Eden and he attacked the plan of God. And through the ages the enemy has been trying to defeat the plan God has for mankind. The plan of God is that you should enjoy this life and be happy, and if you are not happy, it is the result of the enemy attacking God's plans.

"As a text, I want to use I John 4:4, 'Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.' As I studied this lesson this week, I was very much enthused and my spirit was quickened. The enemy was defeated every time he attacked the plans of God. Our problems can be solved by the master mind of God, and every one who sows with the natural mind, and God has a way of bringing about His plans. When we give up our own way God in His kindness prepares a way by which we may walk. Through the diabolical plans of the enemy Abel was destroyed, and God raised up Seth. In the time of Esau and Jacob, the enemy thought, here is where God will fall; but God used that man who by his very nature would go forth and bring forth fruit. God can work through every man that will let Him work. God couldn't use Esau, because there was too much 'I will' in him. There was too much 'I will' in Cain. God again put His foot on the enemy's neck, and brought forth Jacob, who wrestled all night, and said 'Except thou bless me, I will not let thee go,' and through him the world has been blessed. God blessed the boy Joseph as he revealed some of God's plans to his brothers. The enemy attacked again, and he was cast into the well, and sent into Egypt. He knew that the famine would come, and in every place where Satan would attack, God cared for him, because his faith and confidence was in God.

"After a while the cup of iniquity becomes full. It worries some people to see the wicked spreading himself like a green bay tree, but there is a little insect working there, and the beauty soon begins to fade away, and his place will soon be known no more.

"In your problems, I would that you would trust Him. Your peanut stand is a big problem, but consider the Red sea, and how he commanded the church of Israel to go forward, and the waters stood up in a heap. If we knew that Spirit of God, we wouldn't feel like we had lost the last friend we had. God makes ways through testings and trials. May we ourselves realize that God is greater than all things in the world."

PRESSURE-COOKING MAKES NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT TASTIER

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit Great Improvement

One of the first things to be noticed about the new, improved Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit is the unusually delightful flavor and crispness. The Kellogg Company uses a special process of "pressure-cooking." This bakes in the rich flavor. Every shred is thoroughly cooked and therefore easier to digest.

The biscuits are then toasted a light golden brown on both top and bottom—not just one side. This makes them much crispier and crunchier.

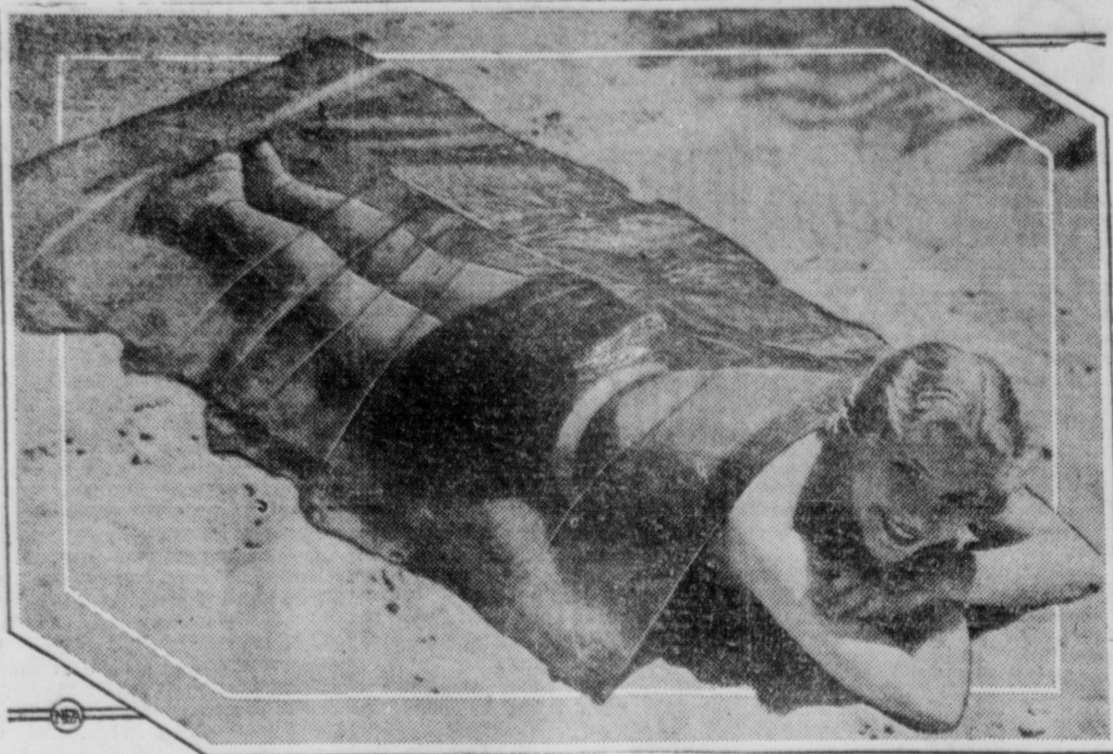

Economy has not been overlooked either. Instead of the usual dozen, you get 15 biscuits to the package. Incidentally, the biscuits are a new, convenient size—two just fit the cereal bowl.

There is also news in the fact that the Kellogg biscuit is so rich in food value that the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia certifies every package. Mothers are welcoming this improved and healthful cereal. They find it equally delightful for breakfast, lunch, or children's supper—serving it with milk or cream, and sometimes adding fruits or honey.

Local grocers have this new shredded biscuit. It may be identified by the familiar red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

OLD SOL PUTS BEAUTIES IN THE BAG

It takes a lot of sand to wear this costume, which is 90 per cent cellophane. The other 10 per cent is bathing suit. It's the newest fad at Malibu beach, playspot of the Hollywood film colony. Under the cellophane, so they say, the skin receives all benefits of ultra-violet sun rays, producing tan without sunburn. Save the surface and you save all!

If you know your SILENCE and SAFETY

UNLESS you're willing to pay your good money for a back number when you buy tires—here are two pictures of vital interest to you.

In these pictures you see the two types of treads used on all the tires offered for sale today.

At the left is the smooth center tread, politely called by the tire industry a "rib center."

At the right—the Goodyear All-Weather.

Look at the "rib center" tire and you see grippless sled-runners of rubber in the middle of the tread where the tire contacts the road.

Look at this new Goodyear and you see traction in the tread center—big husky blocks of rubber—keen-edged—deep-slotted at an angle which means grip and stop, no matter which way a car wants to slide.

Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tires give you the type of tread shown at the right—Goodyears provide the complete and sure-footed safety of traction in the center of the tread where it belongs.

But this year Goodyears give even more. They give you safety and silence both in the first noiseless non-skid tread, the new Silent All-Weather.

Prices Record-breakingly Low!

Never in Goodyear experience—never in all tire history—have the prices of Goodyear Tires been as low as they are today. Don't try to guess them by what you last paid for tires. They're 50% lower than they were five years ago—30% lower than in 1929. And your money today buys the hand-somest, toughest, longest-wearing Goodyear All-Weather ever built. Think of that, and ask yourself: Why buy any second-choice tire when first-choice costs no more!

TUNE IN on the Goodyear Program every Wednesday night over N. B. C. Red Network, WEA and Associated Stations

What with new cars becoming faster, more powerful every year, it's well to remember that brakes may stop the wheels, but only TIRES can stop the car—and those tires must have traction.

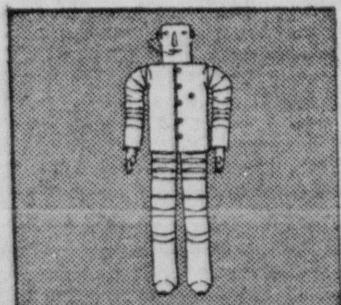

What with engines and bodies built quieter than ever before, it's worth while to watch the tires you buy, and make sure they roll without rumble or hum.

Millions of motorists have discovered the superior safety of the All-Weather Tread. That is one of the big reasons why more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

When you buy tires, get the newest and safest and best. All you need to do is ask yourself the simple question: "Why be satisfied with any second-choice tire when first-choice costs no more?"
